Good Citizenship Medal in Silver, Delaware Society, National Society, Sons of the American Revolution, 2003

Distinguished Patriot Award, National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, September 2012.

The "Distinguished Patriot Award" is the NSSAR's most prestigious national award. It was established in 1987 and may be given only once by a President General during his tenure in office. The first recipient was Bob Hope in recognition of his many years of entertaining members of the Armed Forces; President Ronald Reagan received the award after he left office in 1989. President George W. Bush was thus honored in 2005, Frank Buckles, last surviving American Soldier of World War I, received the award in 2009.

Robert H. Smith International Center for Jefferson Studies Fellowship, Monticello, Virginia, May 2015.

Erick Kurz Memorial Award for German-American History, Steuben Society of America, September 2015.

La Médaille d'Or des Valeurs Francophones, La Renaissance Française, 2019

This medal recognizes individuals who devote themselves to the development or tightening of linguistic or cultural ties between France and other countries sharing the French language, or to the development of the French language and culture in their country.

Ordre national du Mérite, 2022

On 7 February 2022, French President Emmanuel Macron signed a decree nominating me a chevalier de l'Ordre national du Mérite. The French National Order of Merit, founded on 3 December 1963 by President Charles de Gaulle, is awarded by the President of the French Republic independent of the nationality of the recipient for distinguished military or civil achievements. It is the highest medal awarded to foreigners (only 90 female and 90 male non-French chevaliers world-wide annually for 2021-2023) since the Legion of Honor is generally reserved for French citizens only. The honor recognizes my role as one of the foremost American historians on the contributions of France in the American War of Independence and my work as lead historian of the Washington-Rochambeau Revolutionary Route National Historic Trail, which traces the land and water routes taken by American and French forces from Newport, RI, and Newburgh, NY, to Yorktown, VA, in the summer of 1781 and back again in the winter of 1781 (Continental Army) and summer of 1782 (French forces).

On 27 December 2022, the American Society of Le Souvenir Français, Inc. awarded me the Médaille d'Honneur du Souvenir Français.
